Who are we?

Emma and Kit with Giles Duley (May 2013 Judge)

The London Photo Festival was established by Emma Mapp & Kit Shah, after they met on a 'How To Exhibit Your Photography' course in 2011.

What do we do?

We provide new and emerging photographers the opportunity to exhibit their work, gain professional feedback and to join a thriving community of photographers. The principle behind the LPF is we don't evaluate your images and it's what sets us apart from other exhibitions, festivals and galleries. This festival is literally the talk of the town and we've been featured in Time

Out, the Daily Telegraph, and photography magazines. This is what we can promise: a relaxed, gallery environment in which to showcase and sell your images as well as access to our thriving network of photographers and provide photography collectors with the chance to snap up the next Henri Cartier-Bresson.

Buying Guide

Ready to start your photography collection?

The London Photo Festival aims to promote new and emerging photographers from around the globe and to bring original and unique photographic art to your walls.

Here's how you can purchase photographs from the London Photo Festival:

1. Visit the Festival in person; or
2. Order on-line from our website (www.londonphotofestival.org) and we'll get it delivered to you.

The photographs are available to order at any time and not just during the Festival and we can provide them in a format to suit your requirements: framed or unframed and any size.

We also hold a "Click 'n Clique" event on the Friday evening of the Festival and you can come down and meet most of the photographers in person and talk to them about their work.
